

VACANCY: Java Analyst Programmer

Application Deadline: 2nd October 2009

Location: Nottingham

Salary: Competitive

ABM United Kingdom Ltd, Britannia House, Mere Way, Ruddington, Nottinghamshire, England NG11 6JS
Tel: +44 (0)115 977 6999 Fax: +44 (0)115 977 6850 Email: careers@abm-uk.com Web: www.abm-uk.com

VACANCY: Java Analyst Programmer

ABM is a global supplier of crime reduction solutions for criminal justice and commercial organisations worldwide (www.abm-uk.com).

We are looking for an experienced Java Analyst Programmer to join our development team, working with leading edge technology and delivering market leading solutions for the Criminal Justice market.

Candidates will have a minimum of 2-years experience of delivering Java-based applications, good communication skills, excellent problem solving abilities and a proactive approach to development. All candidates will be asked to demonstrate their understanding of:

- Java/J2EE
- HTML
- JavaScript
- XML/XSLT

Experience of Oracle RDMS (9i, 10g), JDBC, Servlets, JSP, Web Services, Spring, JUnit, Test driven development, Ant, experience of developing applications to operate across a wide range of Application Servers (JBoss, Tomcat, and Oracle 10g application server) is also highly desirable.

Furthermore, experience of the following development tools CVS, Eclipse, XMLSpy and Toad would be advantageous.

We use a wide range of technologies so the role offers the opportunity for the successful individual to embrace these and enhance their skill set. Sun Java certification will also be assisted and encouraged.

How to Apply

Email careers@abm-uk.com with a covering letter and your CV by Friday 2nd October 2009.

Please call ABM's HR department on 0115 977 6999 if you have any queries regarding this vacancy.

(Posted: 26 August 2009)